Dear Shri Patra

I am happy to note the return of your highly acclaimed event AIR CARGO INDIA at Mumbai during FEB 2010

This event in the past years has witness a coming together of the various segment of our Air logistics industry and I am confident the forthcoming event will also witness a congregation of the who's who of the industry .I am sure with your organizing skills so deftly exhibited during the past two attempts will also make the forthcoming AIR CARGO INDIA an event that will be talked about for a long time to come.

We in ACAAI ,the only National Association of the air cargo forwarders in India, extend our support to a successful event and congratulate you on this initiative.

Past year and a half has cast aside many established precepts and rules of the Cargo industry and the changes that await the forwarders in the coming months presents a challenge to the ingenuity and skills of a forwarder.He needs to unlearn the old rules of the game and also play a seminal role in ushering in the new rules.Harnessing his skills at networking and employing technology to measure up to the largest competitor is a daunting but very achievable task.

Events like yours provides a conducive platform for the industry to come together face to face and hone one's skills to meet the challenges in store.

We wish you a very successful and memorable AIR CARGO INDIA 2010

J. Krishnan,

President
