Christine Mendes
Senior Regional Logistics Officer,
United Nations World Food Programme, Bureau for Southern Africa

Christine Mendes is the South Africa based Senior Regional Logistics Officer overseeing the World Food Programme (WFP) logistics operations for the Southern Africa Region covering eleven countries. Working as an integral part of WFP strong supply chain, Christine is tasked with ensuring that food commodities are delivered on time in a cost effective manner. In delivering food, WFP engages capacities and assets commercial entities along a relatively complex supply chain which requires various modes of transport, storage, handling and distribution. She has experience in working in the humanitarian world in complex emergencies and development context in Africa, Asia and the WFP headquarters in Rome, Italy.